The Madden-Julian Oscillation (MJO) is known to modulate many types of weather and climate events. This presentation summarizes connections between the MJO and global fire and flood, and thereby advocates explorations of forecasting fire and flood probability based on MJO prediction.

End